Introduction

What is Conference? It's a yearly tradition where all the regents and Chancellor's scholars from all the UC's come to share their leadership, teambuilding, and experiences over an exciting weekend.

This year you will visit one of the largest UC campuses and discover the unique characteristics that make up Davis. Over the weekend, we will get to know one another by participating in workshops that on leadership skills and techniques, and hear short presentations about each society. We will explore Davis' transformation from "cow town" to "green town."

For conference, you should bring a weekend's worth of clothes, toiletries, a sleeping bag, and a pillow. Most non-Davis scholars will be paired with UC Davis scholars in either dorms or apartments. Assignments will be e-mailed the Wednesday or Thursday before Conference.

You should bring about $35-$40. Parking will be $6 on Friday and free over the weekend. Parking permits can be purchased at UCD parking ticket booths. Conference is $15, which will cover two breakfasts and lunch. The extra money is for dinner on Saturday in Downtown Davis, and any shopping you might do on Sunday before you leave.

"Conference" isn't meant to be in an intense business experience. Feel free to dress casually and enjoy your time here in Davis. We look forward meeting you all!

Sincerely,
The UC Davis Regents Scholar Society
